

INFORMATION REPORT

COUNTRY China

DATE DISTR. 12 November 1948

SUBJECT Political Information: Preparations by Soviet Nationals in Shanghai to meet approach of Chinese Civil War

NO. OF PAGES 1

PLACE ACQUIRED [REDACTED] 25X1A

NO. OF ENCLS.
(LISTED BELOW)

DATE OF INFO [REDACTED] 25X1A

SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. 25X1X

1. For protection against the rioting which may occur if fighting approaches Shanghai, a "Youth Self-protecting Corps", composed of young Communist members, will be organized by Soviet nationals.
2. It is further proposed to concentrate all Soviet nationals, as a measure of safety. The main places for concentration are: Soviet Consulate, 20 Whangpoo Road; Soviet Citizens' Association (SCA), 801 Avenue Foch. Food supplies for one month are to be provided at each of the concentration centers.
3. When the situation becomes urgent, contacts are to be made by use of telephone, radio receiver, motorcar, and other means of communication. Members of the "Youth Self-protecting Corps" are to escort Soviet nationals to the appointed gathering spots.
4. To implement the proposed plan, the Soviet Consulate has appointed the following persons as special liaison officers:

a. N. Medi 25X1A 405 Avenue du Roi Albert
[REDACTED] Comment. He may be the N. P. Medi, a district delegate for the Control Committee (KNK) of the SCA, whose address was given as 421 Avenue du Roi Albert in [REDACTED] This may also be the 25X1A
N. P. Medi, journalist and radio operator, who resided at 159/12 Avenue Haig in 1946.)

b. G. Zverev 25X1A 801 Avenue Foch
[REDACTED] Comment. He is probably G. A. Zverev, variously occupied as watchman for the SCA and chauffeur for the Soviet Consulate and the Moscow Narodny Bank (1946); a well-known sportsman, active in the Soviet Youth Organization of the SCA. It is also probable that G. V. Zverev, 525 Avenue du Roi Albert (1948), district delegate for the KNK, is the same man. [REDACTED] reported that TASS had recently 25X1A dismissed G. Zverev, a radio operator.)

c. V. Derbinsky 147 Rue Paul Henry [REDACTED] Comment. Vladimir S. Derbinsky, a Political Instructor at the SCA, is an active member of the Soviet Citizens' Trade Association.)

CONFIDENTIAL

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1975 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Next Review Date: 2008